

FQ5-522

28

ABSTRACT

An electronic apparatus with backlit display and input device allowing reduced power consumption while maintaining necessary brightness is disclosed. A mode detecting section detects a currently set operation mode when performing a function.

- 5 The brightness of the backlighting is controlled depending on the currently set operation mode. In the case of a data input mode, the brightness of the backlighting is reduced.

2001 02/02 FRI 12:45 FAX 03 3288 3222 Ktsuragi Patent → FOLEY & LARDNER